THE HISTORY

"IT WAS ORIGINALLY BUILT FOR LOVE."

A traditional canadian style log cabin set in the rarest of positions - one of the few remaining wilds of Scotland within close reach of Edinburgh - with a back story that will make your heart melt.

So it's truly fitting that this incredibly special place - in the heart of John Muir Country - has continued to be used to celebrate this most sacred of events - the joining of two people & their families.

Constructed in the 1960's by the 12th Earl of Haddington to remind his beloved wife of her native Canada, they spent many happy hours high above the sands at Ravensheugh, relaxing and enjoying the tranquillity and beauty.

A timeless location, the cabin itself is often used as the relaxation or chill-out area for your event, with a beautiful marquee of your choice set alongside, or a few metres back in the woods. This creates two irresistible zones for guests to flow between - all while taking in the amazing natural beauty. It's raw Scottish scenery at its' finest, and it doesn't get more romantic than that.

YOUR WEDDING

A beautiful blank canvas on which to create your perfect celebration - the unique aspect of a wedding at Ravensheugh is the near limitless potential for setting it up in a way that is meaningful to you. Our valued customers like to get creative - and why not be? It is one of the most important days in your life - and we are incredibly honoured to help you with it.
